

Presented by The Organization for International Development (OID)

"Bringing the World to Egypt"

Volunteerism: Approaches,
Global Impacts & Opportunities
Monday, March 26th 2007

George Washington University
Elliott School of International Affairs
1957 E Street, NW Washington DC, 20052
Lindner Family Commons, 6th floor

6:30pm Networking reception and complimentary refreshments

7:00pm Panel discussion and presentations

Join Coptic Orphans, Mission Life Center and Hands Along the Nile as we discuss the importance of empowerment and development, cross cultural dialogue and volunteering abroad. This is also your chance to learn more about the opportunities that are available to you. Summer is just around the corner – now is the time to make your plans to spend it with someone who needs you.

Panelists from:

Coptic Orphans— serving vulnerable children in Egypt.

Mission Life Center-empowering people to help people.

Hands Along the Nile-building bridges between US and Egypt.

VOLUNTEERING CHANGES LIVES

For more information on attending this free event,
please contact:

Tamara Martin, Coptic Orphans
(703) 641-8910 or tmartin@copticorphans.org

or

Cynthia Berning, OID
cynthia.berning@gmail.com

